please forgive me gainor that i'm just getting around to congratulating you on your show at dfac...i absolutely love the presentation, the images are mesmerizing, i bring all my students to see your series, i stare at them with amazement and think the idea on your part was brilliant and it really is soooo interesting to see how you treated each piece of fruit and it's inner core world of where life began -- makes my imagination wander wonderfully not only through the creative process of each kind of fruit but the shapes and colors and the intricacy of the outcome of seed life that not only lives on the inside of fruit but within all creation including us humans!!!!

and i've only scratched the surface of the subject!...haven't even commented yet on your proficiency with egg tempera -- more wows!!! i could go on and on and on but suffice it to say, you are a master painter and i'm in awe...

applause applause!

sorry again that i couldn't make the opening--we had our own to tend to at stirling...

and now i hear you won the creative loafing award !!...

bask in the limelight my friend while also making people happy inside...me included keep the rivers flowing...you deserve every accolade you receive...karen
